

A Vinfen service for award-winning artists with disabilities
Brookline, MA

Gateway Arts, a community-based comprehensive professional art center, provides support, retail and exhibit outlets, and real careers in the arts for more than 110 individuals with disabilities in the Greater Boston area.

Gateway Crafts Store Brookline, Massachusetts

A consignment shop where original and offset work by studio artists is shown and sold. Artists receive 60% of the selling price of original work, and copyright fees for multiples such as cards and t-shirts.

Gateway Crafts Store
Brookline, Massachusetts

The interior of the professionally designed street-level store in historic Brookline Village, selling woven goods, pottery, folk art, hand-painted clothing, original books, notecards, wrapping paper and more.

Gateway Gallery
Brookline, Massachusetts

The Gallery, located on the 2nd floor of an old glass factory with adjacent studio areas for artists, houses over 6 openings per year and has rotating shows featuring the studio's artists.

Gateway Gallery
Brookline, Massachusetts

In addition to the gallery exhibits, a viewing room with portfolios and flat files of artists' work is available for showing work to collectors.

Gateway Arts Studio A Brookline, Massachusetts

This recently developed studio provides supports and representation for over 40 artists funded by the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission and by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health for arts-based vocational rehabilitation services.

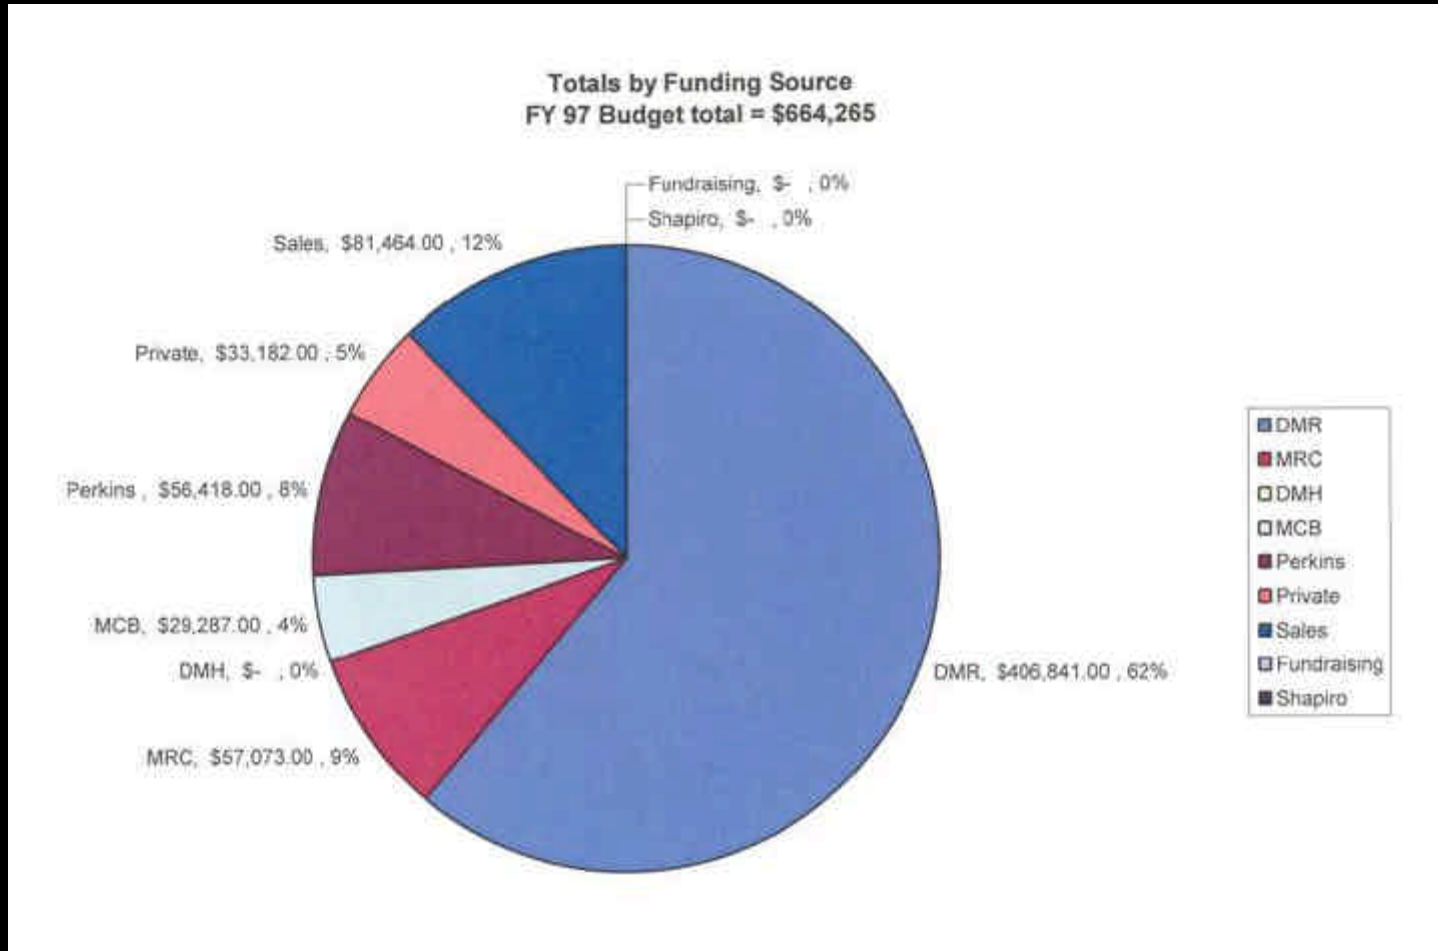

Artist at work in the Main Studio Gateway Arts

Carmen came to Gateway with funding from the Massachusetts Department of Mental Retardation on turning 22 and has developed a wide range of artwork, success in sales, friends, and a strong work ethic.

Artist at work in the Main Studio
Gateway Arts

Mary joined Gateway on her retirement from work at Hanscomb Air Force Base. She formerly lived in Massachusetts State Schools. Art, once her hobby, is now her profession.

Gateway Arts Budget by Funding Source
FY 1997 – Total $664,265

The art center grew from an operating budget of $60,000 in 1978 with a single funding source (DMR) to a diversified budget of $664,265 in 1997.

Gateway Arts Budget by Funding Source
FY 2007 – Total $1,439,139

The continually diversified funding base has expanded to include more significant development and has increased in terms of service and art sales.

Barneys New York – Chestnut Hill Mall Holiday windows with Gateway artwork

Art exhibits result in sales and community inclusion. This holiday exhibit and sale at Barneys New York at the upscale Chestnut Hill Mall in Newton, MA has produced delighted customer responses and attracted new collectors.

Allyn & Bacon textbook cover
With illustration by Gateway artist

Rights are reserved in the artist's name and sold. Carmella Salvucci's image was purchased for this Allyn & Bacon textbook.

Berenberg Gallery Opening Boston, Massachusetts

This unique gallery shows the work of self-taught artists from Gateway and the nation. From left to right: Lorri Berenberg (owner), Stephen DeFronzo (Gateway's Artistic Director), Carl Phillips (Gateway artist), Rae Edelson (Gateway's Director), Mrs. Phillips (Carl's mother).

Outsider Art Fair New York, NY

One of the most significant outlets for self-taught art is the annual Outsider Art Fair in January at the Puck Building in New York City. This is the Berenberg Gallery booth at this prestigious fair.

Yasmin Arshad
Gateway Artist

Drawing by Yasmin Arshad

Drawing by Yasmin Arshad

Calendar piece by Yasmin Arshad

Calendar piece by Yasmin Arshad

Marker drawing by Yasmin Arshad

Marker drawing by Yasmin Arshad

“Yes” by Yasmin Arshad

Robert Kirshner
Gateway Artist

Robert, one of Gateway's top artists, receives special career facilitation through funding from the Shapiro Foundation. Robert is a successful artist and an avid Red Sox fan.

Drawing by Robert Kirshner

Drawing by Robert Kirshner

Drawing by Robert Kirshner

Drawing by Robert Kirshner

Coaster and placemat with image by Robert Kirshner

Gateway Artist Elizabeth Temple with Director Rae Edelson

Elizabeth and Rae celebrate a successful $150,000 development campaign to renovate expanded studio facilities as well as office and exhibition space.

Drawing by Elizabeth Temple

Gateway Artists and Staff

Currently 110 artists and 22 staff members dedicate their life work to making dreams come true, creating professional lives in the arts.